LOCAL STORM SIGNAL CODE.

(As amended by agreement between the Royal Observatory, Hong Kong and the Central Weather Bureau, Manila; and used from 1st January, 1935).

Number	Day Signal	Night Signal	Signification
1		WHITE WHITE WHITE	A depression or typhoon exists which may possibly affect the locality.
* 2		WHITE GREEN WHITE	Strong wind with squalls may possibly occur from S.W.
* 3		GREEN WHITE GREEN	Strong wind with squalls may possibly occur from S.E.
* 4		WHITE WHITE RED	Typhoon dangerous but danger to locality not imminent.
5		WHITE GREEN GREEN	Gale expected from the N.W. (W—N).
6		GREEN WHITE WHITE	Gale expected from the S.W. (S—W).
7		GREEN GREEN WHITE	Gale expected from the N.E. (N—E).
8		WHITE WHITE GREEN	Gale expected from the S.E. (E—S).
† 9		GREEN GREEN GREEN	Gale expected to increase.
10		RED GREEN RED	Wind of typhoon force expected (any direction).

* Not used in Hong Kong.

† Not used in Manila.

SUPPLEMENTARY SIGNALS.

RED		RED GREEN	No. 1 hoisted in Hong Kong harbour.
RED		GREEN GREEN	Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, or 10 hoisted in Hong Kong harbour.

Day and night signals are displayed at the Royal Observatory, Harbour Office, H.M.S. Tamar, Lyceumun (near Field Officer's quarters), Gough Hill (Police Station), Kowloon Tong (north of La Salle College, Prince Edward Road).

Day signals only are displayed at Green Island, the premises of the Hong Kong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Ltd., and the Socony Vacuum Co. at Laichikok, night signals only on the tower of the Kowloon Railway Station, and on the premises of the Hong Kong and Whampoa Dock Company, Kowloon.

Supplementary signals are displayed at Aberdeen, Cheung Chau, Gap Rock, Ping Shan, Stanley, Shauiwan, Saikung, Shataukok, Taipo, Tsun Wan, Tai O, and Waglan. They are also hoisted on Police cruising launches and on Police launches Nos. 5 and 6.

Signal No. 1 is a cautionary or "stand by" signal, and does not necessarily imply bad weather. Signals No. 5 to 8 convey definite warning of expected gales and will not be hoisted until such gales are probable at Gap Rock and/or Hong Kong, or when a typhoon is sufficiently near to the Colony to warrant a danger signal, although the occurrence of a gale may be uncertain.

The term "gale" signifies wind velocity of 40 statute miles per hour and upwards, and on such warning it is advisable that small craft (sampan, launches and junks) seek shelter, steamships prepare to proceed to a recognised typhoon anchorage or mooring, and that custodians of buildings prepare to secure all windows and shutters.

Signal No. 10 will be accompanied by three explosive bombs fired at intervals of ten seconds at the Water Police Station and at the Harbour Office. It will be displayed as early as possible when wind of typhoon force (60 statute m.p.h.) is expected; in many cases, therefore, No. 9 will not be utilised.

Signals will be lowered when danger is considered to be over.

NON-LOCAL STORM SIGNAL CODE.

The following ten symbols are used:—

indicating the figures

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0

(2) The signals are hoisted at the yard-arms and at the mast head of a Storm Signal Mast and have the following significance:—

Typhoon and depression Signals:—

- (a) 4 symbols at one yard-arm showing the position of the centre.
- (b) 3 symbols at the other yard-arm, showing the direction of motion or, alternatively, certain conditions; also the accuracy with which the centre has been located, and the intensity. (Table 1).
- (c) 1 symbol at the mast head showing the time at which the centre was in the position indicated (Table 2).

Gale Signals:—

- (d) 1 symbol at one yard-arm showing the region threatened (Table 3).
- (e) 2 symbols at the other yard-arm showing the general direction from which the gale is blowing, in points: 08=East, 16=South, 24=West, 32=North.
- (f) 1 symbol at the mast head showing the time at which the gale was as stated.
- (3) The two upper symbols of group (a) indicate by their corresponding numbers the latitude, and the two lower symbols the longitude, of the centre of a circle (of a radius specified by the lowest symbol of group (b)) within which the centre of the typhoon or depression lies. The symbols for longitude give the tens and units only; thus 32 indicates longitude 132°.
- (4) The two upper symbols of group (b) indicate the direction in which the typhoon, etc. is travelling, or alternatively, certain conditions (Table 1).
- (5) The third and lowest symbol of the group (b) indicates the radius of the circle whose centre is shown by the latitude and longitude, together with the degree of intensity, or alternatively, one of four conditions which can sometimes be given in addition to the direction of motion (Table 1) and in preference to the radius and intensity signal.
- (6) Caution.—The position indicated by the latitude and longitude signals does not purport to be the position of the centre of the typhoon, but merely the centre of a circle of specified radius within which the centre of the typhoon is believed to lie.

(7) The Time Signal (Table 2) indicates the time at which the typhoon or depression was in the position indicated. Symbol No. 9 provides for occasions when the centre has been located from observations at other than routine hours.

Approximate
STANDARD TIME
Throughout the World at Noon in London.

Within the inner circle each of the spaces bounded by the long radial lines marks the passage of one hour, while each of the sub-divisions of the circle represents 15 minutes of time, in the earth's diurnal revolution; in the mid-circular space, the difference of time throughout the world, based on noon at Greenwich, is shown in hours; the outer circular space shows the corresponding degrees (15° to the hour) west or east of the meridian of Greenwich.

To find at sea the approximate time at any place, ascertain by reference to the diagram, the difference (earlier or later), of time between that place and the ship's standard time; this difference, added for places east of the ship's position, or deducted for places west of that position, to or from the ship's time, will give the approximate time at the distant locality.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The Weights and Measures Act of 1878, superceding all previous laws, enacts the legal measures for Great Britain, basing them upon the Standard Yard and the Standard Pound, in the custody of the Standards Department of the Board of Trade.

The YARD and the POUND are the only two independent standards for weights and measures. The GALLON, the capacity standard, wet or dry, is based upon the Pound. The Act of 1878 defines the Gallon as the volume of ten standard pounds of distilled water weighed in air against brass weights, both water and air at the temperature of 62° Fahrenheit, with the barometer at 30 inches.

Apothecaries' Weight.

Measures of Weight.

20 grains=1 scruple (℞) (=1.296 Grammes)

3 scruples=1 drachm (ʒ) (=3.888 Grammes)

8 drachms=1 ounce (=31.1035 Grammes)

Measures of Capacity.

60 minims (min.)=1 fluid drachm (=3.552 Millilitres).

8 fluid drachms=1 fluid ounce (=2.84123 Centilitres).

20 fluid ounces =1 pint (=0.568 Litre).

8 pints =1 GALLON (=4.5459631 Litres).

The Apothecaries' grain is the Avoirdupois grain, and the Apothecaries' ounce is the Troy ounce, of 480 grains. The Apothecaries' drachm is not the same as the Avoirdupois dram, and is spelt differently. A fluid ounce of distilled water at a temperature of 62° Fahrenheit is equal in weight to the Avoirdupois ounce (437.5 grains). A fluid drachm (54.6875 grains) is equal in weight to two Avoirdupois drams.

Approximate Equivalents:—

1 "table-spoon" = ½ fluid oz. 1 "dessert-spoon" = ¼ fluid oz.; 1 "tea-spoon" = ⅓ fluid oz.

Geographical Measures.

The North and South Poles are two points at the opposite extremities of that diameter of the earth round which it revolves. The Equator is a great circle, equally distant from the North and South Poles. For geographical purposes, the surface of the earth is divided by circles, called the circles of Latitude and Longitude, the circles of Latitude being parallel and those of Longitude perpendicular to the Equator. These circles are divided into Degrees, Minutes, and Seconds. Degrees of Latitude are numbered from the Equator to the North and South Poles. Degrees of Longitude are numbered from the primary circle of Longitude, or Meridian, which passes through the Astronomical Observatory of Greenwich (England).

A Geographical Mile is the length of one minute of Latitude. If the earth was a sphere, every minute of Latitude would be of the same length; but, as it is a spheroid, the length of a minute increases from 6,046 feet at the Equator to 6,108 feet at the Poles. The mean length of the geographical mile is 6,076.8 feet. The Nautical Mile is (strictly speaking) the length of a minute of the meridian, and is thus identical with the geographical mile. In practice, however, it is taken as the Admiralty Knot of 6,080 feet, divided into 10 cables, which are assumed to be 100 fathoms, or 600 feet.

The Polar diameter of the Earth is 7,899 English miles. The mean equatorial diameter is 7,926 miles. The circumference at the Equator is 24,902 miles.

Measures of Heat.

The comparisons to follow on Page 16 are of Thermometers constructed by Fahrenheit, Celsius and Réaumur. Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, F.R.S. (1686-1736), was born at Danzig, and lived a great part of his life in England and the Netherlands. He was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society in 1724. Anders Celsius (1710-1744), inventor of the Centigrade Thermometer, was born at Upsala, Sweden, and was for many years Professor of Astronomy at the University of Upsala. René Antoine Ferchault de Réaumur (1683-1757), was born at La Rochelle, France, and became known as "The Pliny of the xviii Century" on account of his work as a Natural Historian.

Nautical Measures.

- 6 feet = 1 fathom.
100 fathoms = 1 cable length.
10 cables = 1 nautical mile.
60 nautical miles = 1 degree.

The assumed length of the cable is 600 feet (=182.87 metres), but it is strictly 606.97 feet (=185 metres). The conventional Nautical Mile (the Knot in speed measurements) is 10 cables, assumed at 6,080 feet (strictly 6,069.7 feet), but the Nautical Mile is strictly the length of a minute of the meridian and differs according to latitude.

Ship Measurement.

The Ton-measurement of cargo was originally the space occupied by 4 hogsheads (=a Tun) of wine=50 cubic feet. It is now 40 cubic feet, which is approximately the bulk of 4 quarters, or a short ton, of wheat.

The Ton-register, the unit of capacity of a ship, was originally the space occupied by a Last of 10 Quarters of wheat=100 cubic feet. This cubic space is the Ton-register used by all maritime nations, 100 English cubic feet.

Gross tonnage is the sum in cubic feet of all the various enclosed spaces of a vessel, divided by 100.

Net tonnage is the gross tonnage less certain deductions on account of crew spaces, engine room, water ballast, and other spaces not used for passengers or cargo.

Dead-weight tonnage, or carrying capacity, is the number of tons (of 2,240 lb.) of cargo that a vessel is capable of carrying when charged to the load water line (q.v.)

Displacement tonnage is the number of tons of sea water displaced by a vessel when charged to the load water line (q.v.), i.e., it is the weight of vessel and contents in tons.

Load-water-line is the line that would be made round the shell of a vessel when loaded as deep as the minimum freeboard regulations permit.

$$F = C + R + 32$$

$$R = \frac{4(F - 32)}{9}$$

$$*F = \frac{9C}{5} + 32$$

$$C = \frac{5(F - 32)}{9}$$

NOTE.—The normal temperature of the human body is 98.4° F., or 37° C., or 29.5° R. Freezing point = 32° F. = 0° C. = 0° R.; Boiling point = 212° F. = 100° C. = 80° R.

"Absolute" Temperature is Temperature reckoned from "Absolute Zero," which is at 273° C., 459.4° below 0° F., and 218.4° below 0° R. and is denoted by the letter "K."

* Below 32° F., subtract 32.

Draught is the distance in feet from the lowest part of the bottom of a vessel to the actual water line at which the vessel is floating. Thus the load-water-line marks the greatest, or loaded, draught of a vessel. A vessel without any cargo in her hold or passengers or their luggage aboard is said to be "light ship," or "light," or "in ballast."

Free Board is the distance from the main or upper deck to the load-water-line of a vessel. As a general rule the minimum free board provides an amount of reserve buoyancy that will keep a vessel afloat with compartments holed.

Measures of Energy, &c.

In Physics the unit of force is the dyne, the amount that, acting for one second on one gramme mass, gives it a velocity of one centimetre per second. The British unit is the poundal, which in one second gives a pound a velocity of one foot per second. One poundal = 13,825.5 dynes. In Meteorology the unit of atmosphere pressure is the Bar, equal to the pressure of 1,000,000 dynes (1 megadyne) per sq. centimetre. The Meteorological Bar is thus 1,000,000 Chemical Bars.

Horse power is energy exerted at the rate of 550 foot-pounds per second; an alternative unit is the kilowatt (0.12 kilogram-metres per second) = 737.59 foot pounds per second.

Thermal Unit.—The British Thermal Unit (B.Th.U.) is the amount of heat required to raise one pound of water one degree Fahrenheit. The Gas Therm = 100,000 B.Th.U. If $V = \text{cu. ft. consumed}$, $H = \text{declared heat value of the Company's gas (in B.Th.U. per cu. ft.)}$, $P = \text{cost of therm in cents}$, $B = \text{total bill in cents}$ —then $B = V \times H \times P \div 100,000$, whence equivalent cost (in cents) per 1,000 cu. ft. = $B \times 1,000 \div V = H \times P \div 100$.

METRIC WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

See also "Double Conversion Tables for Weights and Measures."

In addition to the Imperial standard weights and measures, the use of the French or Metric system of weights and measures has been recognised since 1897.

In the Metric system, the standard of length is the METRE, the standard of weight is the KILOGRAM, and the standard of capacity is the LITRE. Accurate copies of the Metre, Kilogram, and Litre are kept in the custody of the Standards Office of the British Board of Trade.

1.—MEASURES OF LENGTH.

10 millimetres = 1 centimetre = 0.39370113 inch. (mm.) (cm.)
10 centimetres = 1 decimetre = 3.9370113 in.ches (dm.)
10 decimetres = 1 METRE (m) = 1.0936143 yards.
10 metres = 1 dekametre = 10.936143 yards. (dam.)
10 dekametres = 1 hectometre = 109.36143 yards. (hm.)
10 hectometres = 1 kilometre = 0.62137 mile. (km.)

A kilometre is approximately five eighths of a mile, so that 8 kilometres may be regarded by pedestrians as 5 miles.

2.—MEASURES OF WEIGHT.

10 milligrams = 1 centigram = 0.15432 grams. (mg.) (cg.)
10 centigrams = 1 decigram = 1.5432 „ (dg.)
10 decigrams = 1 gramme = 15.4323 „ (grm.)
10 grammes = 1 dekagram = 5.6438 drams. (dag.)
10 dekagrams = 1 hectogram = 3.5274 oz. (hg.)
10 hectograms = 1 KILOGRAM = 2.2046223 lb. (kg.)
10 kilograms = myriagram = 22.046223 lb.
10 myriagrams = 1 quintal (q.) = 1.9684 cwt.
10 quintals = 1 tonne (t.) = 0.9842 ton.

3.—MEASURES OF CAPACITY.

10 millilitres = 1 centilitre = 0.0704 gill. (mil.) (cl.)
10 centilitres = 1 decilitre (dl.) = 0.17598 pint.
10 decilitres = 1 LITRE (lit.) = 1.7598 pints.
10 litres = 1 dekalitre = 2.1997 gals. (dal.)
10 dekalitres = 1 hectolitre = 2.7497 bushels. (hl.)

1 cubic cm. (water) = 1 gram; 1,000 cubic cm. (water) or 1 litre = 1 kilogram; 1 cubic metre (1,000 litres, 1,000 kilograms) = 1 metric ton.

4.—MEASURES OF LAND.

100 sq. metres = 1 are (d.) = 0.0988 rood.
100 acres = 1 hectare (ha.) = 2.4711 acres.
100 hectares = 1 sq. kilometre = 0.38611 sq. mile.

DO YOU PASS BY YOUR WINDOWS?

Attention to winding mechanisms is called for so infrequently that few will even give it any thought. Freely moving and rattle-free windows will, however, be the reward for letting us look after your car-service requirements.

DOVER CANNONADE: FIASCO OR WARNING?

'Bertha' Bombardment May Be Herald Of Invasion

Lively Speculation Follows Shelling

(SPECIAL TO "CHINA-MAIL")

YESTERDAY'S CANNONADING OF THE SOUTH-EAST COAST BY HITLER'S "BIG BERTHAS" HAS GIVEN RISE TO EXCITED SPECULATION. BOTH THE SHELLING OF THE CONVOY AND THE BOMBARDMENT OF THE COAST ARE REGARDED BY OBSERVERS AS "TARGET PRACTICE" POSSIBLY INDICATING THAT THE MUCH-HERALDED INVASION OF BRITAIN WILL BE ATTEMPTED SHORTLY.

From any other angle, neutral correspondents suggest, the bombardment was both a fiasco and a strategic mistake.

A fiasco because neither ships nor any important objective on land was hit. A strategic blunder because the Nazis have now given away the positions of their batteries.

As these batteries are presumed to be intended to lay a barrage to cover a blitzkrieg invasion effort, the point of defence seems also to be strongly indicated.

The guns fired 14-inch shells, but the whole episode from morning until last evening when the coastal bombardment began was a heavy waste of ammunition. The view in London is that the German demonstration was an abject failure as confirmed by neutral press correspondents who watched the firing through binoculars from the English coast.

Chatterboxes shook the ground as shells of about 14-inch calibre came hurtling at the rate of two a minute. The first guns opened fire at about 11 a.m. as a large convoy proceeded up the Channel, and four huge columns of water shot up into the air. Hundreds of people, who at first thought it was an air raid, rushed to the coast to watch the fun.

45-Minute Attack

Through powerful binoculars, smoke from the batteries on the French coast could be seen and the scream of the shells across the water could be heard. The attack lasted for about 45 minutes, at the end of which apparently nothing in the convoy—neither merchant vessels, warships nor minisubmersibles—was hit. The convoy maintained perfect formation throughout, while destroyers hung on a another screen and R.A.F. planes roared into action. A lone German plane, high in the air, which tried to act as "spotter" for the Nazi guns lining the coast from Calais to Boulogne was shot down by the R.A.F.

TRADE DOLDRUMS

Latest statistics issued by the Chinese Maritime Customs in Shanghai show that Shanghai's foreign trade in July was heavily adverse with imports aggregating U.S.$ 23 million and exports about $6 million.—Havas.

LIFT CRASHES 180 FEET

(SPECIAL TO "CHINA-MAIL")

A miraculous escape from what appeared certain death was enjoyed by 13 Japanese who were riding in an elevator on Osaka's popular Eiffel Tower in Tennoji Park yesterday.

The cable suddenly broke when the elevator was 180 feet above ground. It fell straight to earth but not one of the 13 passengers suffered so much as a bad scratch. All escaped with minor bruises and a bad case of fright. Greater sufferers than the 13 central figures in the hair-raising incident were 60 Osaka residents who had gone to the top of the tower for a look-see, and were marooned for four hours while the elevator was repaired.—Havas.

LULL IN AIR WAR CONTINUES: NO BOMBS

Air Ministry reports received up to 6 p.m. G.M.T. show that only a small number of aircraft, mostly operating singly, crossed the coast during the day.

None of the machines penetrated more than a few miles and no bombs were dropped on land.

Four enemy aircraft were shot down by our fighters. Two of our fighters were lost, but the pilot of one is safe.—Reuter.

HONG KONG YACHT LOST IN TYPHOON

Additional reports of minor accidents in connection with the Typhoon have come in.

A yacht belonging to Mr. L. R. Brown, of the China Construction Company, was blown off from its mooring at Deep Water Bay. The yacht, last not yet been hoisted. No person was on board.

The Sanitary Department lost a traffic.

rubbish boat. The boat fully laden was anchored off Fleming Road, Wanchai.

Several matchboxes belonging to the China Construction Company at Shean Hill were wrecked. A part of the wall of No. 25, Stone Nulak Lane, Wanchai, collapsed, while the north part of a bridge in Taike Road, near 10 mile stone, was damaged. The bridge is dangerous to
